Payment For Diverted Acreage

Wheat Program Explained

Some 150 Randall County farmers Thursday night heard the 1963 government wheat program explained by Paul Read, manager of the Randall County ASCS office.

Farmers will be paid by the government for diverting wheat allotment acreage from production to conservation acreage, Read said.

He took Farmer John Doe with an allotment of 100 acres of wheat with an average yield of 40 bushels per acre as an example.

Farmer Doe may over plant, in which case he would be penalized on excess acreage and would be ineligible for price support. Say, for example, he were penalized 2,000 bushels, the penalty wheat could be stored but not marketed. Then if in some succeeding year his production falls below average he then would receive an adjustment and be allowed to market enough of the penalty wheat to bring his crop up to normal.

Farmer Doe may plant his entire allotment and be eligible for price support.

Farmer Doe might elect to divert part of his allotted acreage to conservation acreage.

He may divert as little as 20 percent or as much as 50 percent.

If he diverts 20 percent and plants only 80 acres with a yield history of 40 bushels, he will receive 18 cents per bushel for 3200 bushels, even if his acreage produces less in 1963.

However, if he plants only 50 acres, he will receive 18 cents per bushel for only 2000 bushels. The amount for which he will receive 18 cents per bushel is determined by multiplying his 40-bushel normal yield by the number of acres actually planted.

Farmer Doe also would receive $20 per acre for the land diverted.

Going into the acreage diverting program on a 20 percent basis seems to be the best deal for the farmer. In effect, he would be penalized rather than rewarded for diverting more than 20 percent of his allotted acreage. Twenty percent is the minimum he may divert and still get into the program.

Read stressed that the farmer must divert all he agrees to divert to remain eligible for the program.

Diverted acreage may be grazed until May 1, 1963. From that date until Nov. 1, 1963 there may be no grazing or harvesting on the diverted acreage.

Deadline for signing up for diverting allotted acreage is Dec. 14.

Canyon Museum Receives Gifts

Canyon's Panhandle Plains Museum received this week 718 pieces of authentic Indian jewelry worth more than $5000 from Mr. and Mrs. Guy Carlender of Amarillo.

Boone McClure, Curator of the plains museum, said the jewelry is some left over from the original inventory of The Prairie Dog, a western gift shop in Amarillo owned by the Carlenders. McClure said the Prairie Dog was sold this week. The shop was located at 506 Polk Street.

McClure noted that all the jewelry is authentic hand made crafts of Southwestern American Indians. He said some of the jewelry is so old that it predates the day when Indian craftsmen started stamping their individual marks on the backs of their crafts to let the buyer know that it wasn't cheap mass produced costume type jewelry.

McClure said the jewelry represents the craftsmanship of many of the Southwestern Indians, especially the Hopi, Navajo and Pueblo Indians from the San Ildefonso and Bernalillo pueblos in New Mexico.

Other additions to the museum include a $5000 Navajo blanket given to the museum by Harold Bugbee from the late W. H. Patrick, a banker in Clarendon. Boone said the blanket's value comes from its age. He said it was made in the 19th century of a special weave.

McClure said the museum is presently selling a series of paintings by Frank Reaugh, who was one of Texas' outstanding western artists. The Frank Reaugh estate gave the museum 500 of Reaugh's paintings for permanent possession as well as 110 for the museum to sell with proceeds to go towards the museum building fund.

These 110 paintings are now on sale. When they are sold it will add $7000 to the museum building fund. The average price on the paintings is about $70 with a spread of $15 to $125. The paintings represent mostly West Texas scenes. McClure said a lot of them were painted around Double Mountain in West Texas.

McClure said the paintings can be seen in the board room on the first floor of the museum.

Fumes Kill WT Student

Accidental death by carbon monoxide poisoning was the ruling of county coroner W. A. 'Bill' Wilson in the death Wednesday evening of last week of Ronnie Verbin Isham, 21, of 2606 12th Avenue.

Wilson said the accident was discovered by Isham's wife when she returned from a trip to Friona to see her doctor.

Americanism Is Best Remedy Says Speaker

"The best way to fight communism is to promote Americanism," Victor Afflerbach, Lubbock, immediate past commander of the VFW Department of Texas told some 100 veterans and their wives here Sunday.

Afflerbach spoke at a luncheon which wound up a District 13 VFW and Auxiliary convention.

"We need to rededicate ourselves to Americanism," Afflerbach told his listeners. "We must reaffirm our belief in God, the Bible and the flag." Afflerbach said he is greatly concerned with lack of respect shown that great banner," he declared.

"Let's tell the story of Americanism," he went on. "Let's tell Americans about the sacrifices that have been made to make America free."

Afflerbach said the VFW is not a pressure group seeking special favors for its membership.

"We served our country because we felt it our duty to protect our nation," the Navy veteran of World War II expounded. "Now we are serving it to make it a better place. We do not feel that we are entitled to any special privileges."

Afflerbach earnestly told his listeners that he hopes the organization which he served only

Safety Record Is Set

As of this week, Randall County is below the state wide average for traffic accidents and traffic deaths, according to Gilbert Ray, Highway Patrolman for Randall County.

Ray said the county usually has about 4 traffic fatalities per year and that the two traffic deaths in the county so far this year place the Randall County traffic death average below that of the state average.

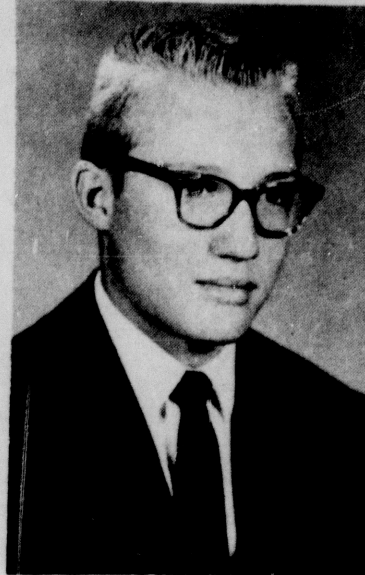

Ray warned, however, that this low accident rate may go up with the coming Christmas holiday season. He said the people of Randall County have been careful in observing traffic rules and traffic safety.

Ray said there is still a very substantial need for care and prudent driving over the coming holiday season. He said the Christmas and New Year period of celebration is the most dangerous time of the year for those moving around in automobiles.

Ray made a point of emphasizing the importance of safety seat belts for drivers and passengers too. Ray said many traffic accidents could be made less serious by the consistent use of seat belts.

In speaking of the two traffic fatalities in Randall County, thus far this year, Ray said that in his opinion both men would be alive today had they been wearing seat belts at the time of the mishaps.

He said that in both cases, death was caused by injuries received when the drivers were thrown outside the car. He said that seat belts would have kept the victims within the steel bodies of their vehicles, thus given them more protection.

Price Named Top Science Student Here

Top science student at Canyon High, Davis Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. Borden Price, will be awarded the Bausch & Lomb Honorary Science Award Medal for his scholastic work in science at CHS.

As winner of the science award, Price will be eligible to compete for the annual science scholarships worth about $5000 each sponsored by Bausch & Lomb Inc., at the University of Rochester in New York state.

Price is an honor student at Canyon High School. He earned a 96.9% scholastic average last year. In addition to his scholastic honors, Price is a member of the Eagle football and basketball teams, the C Club and the Future Teachers of America.

The Bausch & Lomb Science Award Medal was introduced in 1932 to stimulate high school students to a greater appreciation of the many opportunities possible in scientific careers.

The program has the official endorsement of the National Association of Secondary School Principals. The award is annually presented to more than 8000 schools in the United States and in Canada.

Second Phase Reached On Radiation Shelters

Canyon has completed the second of three phases in its part of President Kennedy's National Fallout Shelter Program, according to Bill York, Canyon city manager.

Under President Kennedy's National Shelter Program, started some months ago, buildings suitable for fallout shelters were inspected by private engineering firms employed by the federal government and liensed as public civil defense fallout shelters. This was phase one of the program.

Phase two consists of requisitioning food, water, medical and sanitary supplies and radiation detection instruments supplied by the federal government.

Phase three consists of stocking the shelters with these supplies and marking the buildings with interior and exterior signs.

The purpose of the shelter program is to provide the people of the country a safe place to avoid the radioactive fallout from a nuclear war or attack for a period of at least two weeks.

Each public shelter will accommodate 50 or more people for the two week period in the event of such an attack. They will be used on a first come, first served basis, according to authorities.

Public buildings in the Canyon and Umlinger area that are approved and licensed for public fallout shelters will accommodate a total of 3209 persons for at least two weeks.

Buildings that have been licensed and which are marked for stocking and identification are the Panhandle Plains Museum, West Texas State College Library, the W. T. Education Building, Administration Building, Fine Arts Building and the WT Science Building.

Other area buildings that have been licensed by the civil defense are the Consumers Fuel and Elevator and Farmer's Grain Elevators near Canyon and the Umlinger Co-op Grain Elevator in Umlinger. Of the 3209 spaces available for the fallout shelters, 2983 will be on the West Texas State College campus.

Randall County civil defense director Bill Sternberg, has stated that these preparations and examinations have been in progress for several months and are not a direct result of the present world situation. Sternberg said that in the event of an attack, people entering the shelters should take blankets, warm clothing, flashlights and batteries and battery powered radios with them.

City manager Bill York said that he expects the requisitioned supplies and signs to be delivered rather soon. He added that according to estimates he had recently seen the entire program was rather expensive with the survey alone costing more than twice as much as the actual stocking of the shelters. York said the survey was costing about $93,000,000 and the stocking about $43,000,000 for the whole nation.

Cornette Will Head BSA Council

Dr. James P. Cornette will be installed as president of the Llano Estacado Boy Scout Council January 19.

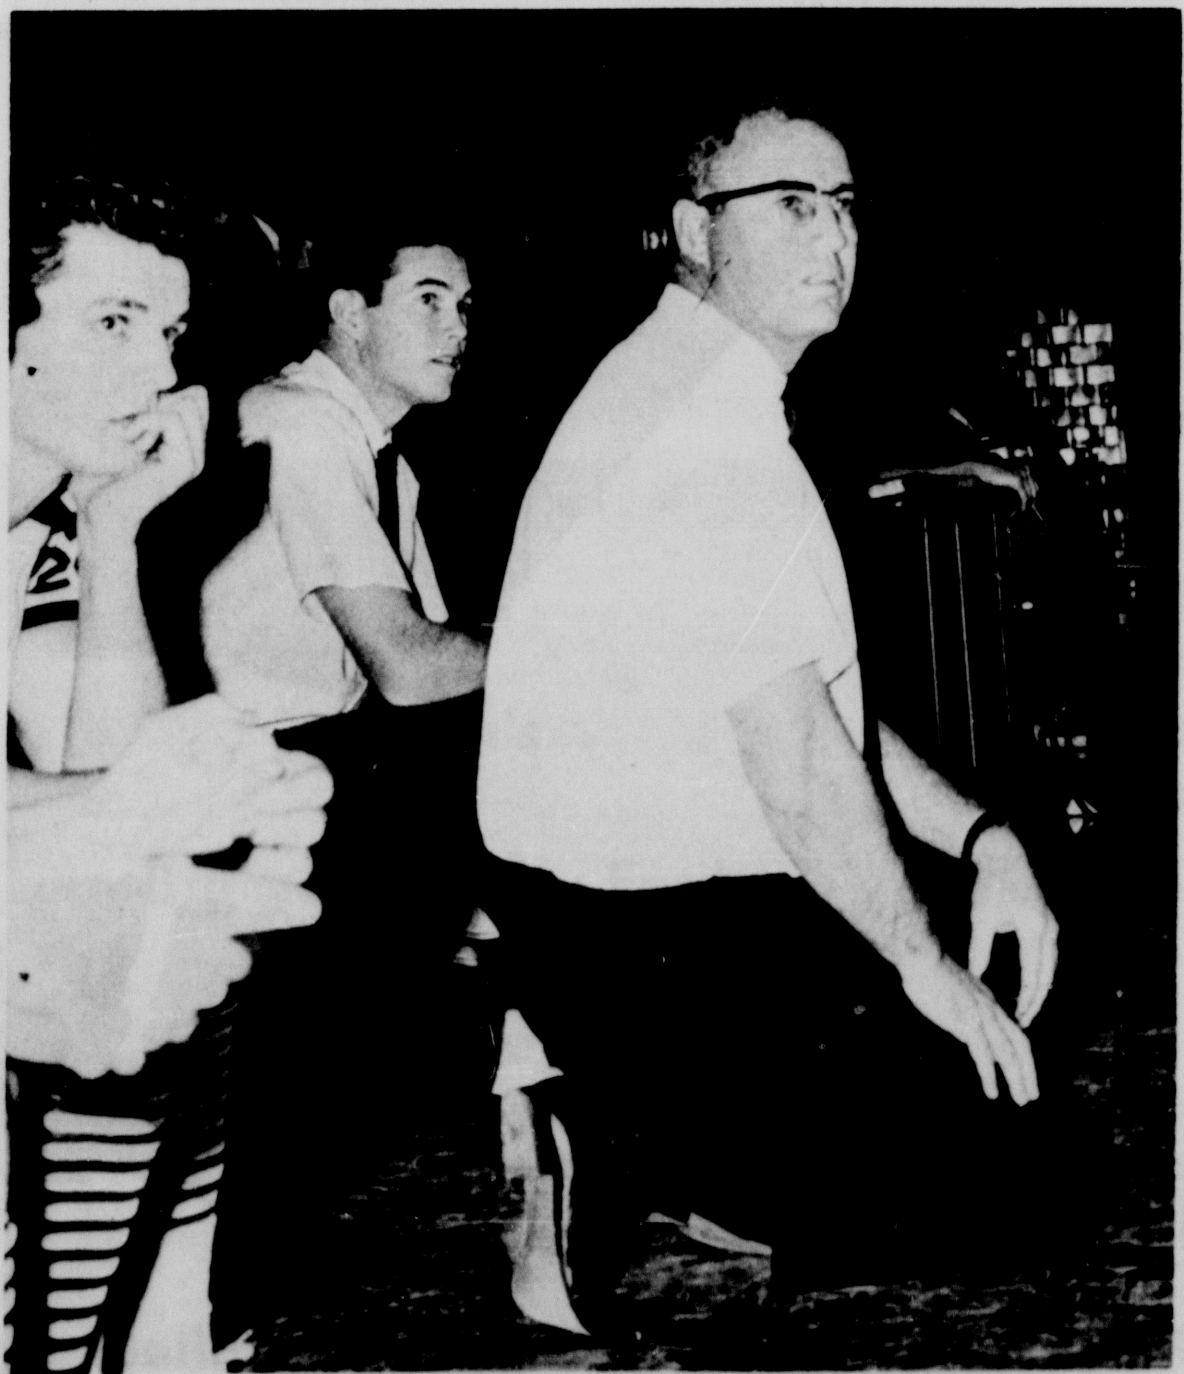

The Council will be holding its annual meeting at that time in the cafeteria of West Texas State College.

Nine counties in the Panhandle are covered by the Council.

Grand Jury Meeting

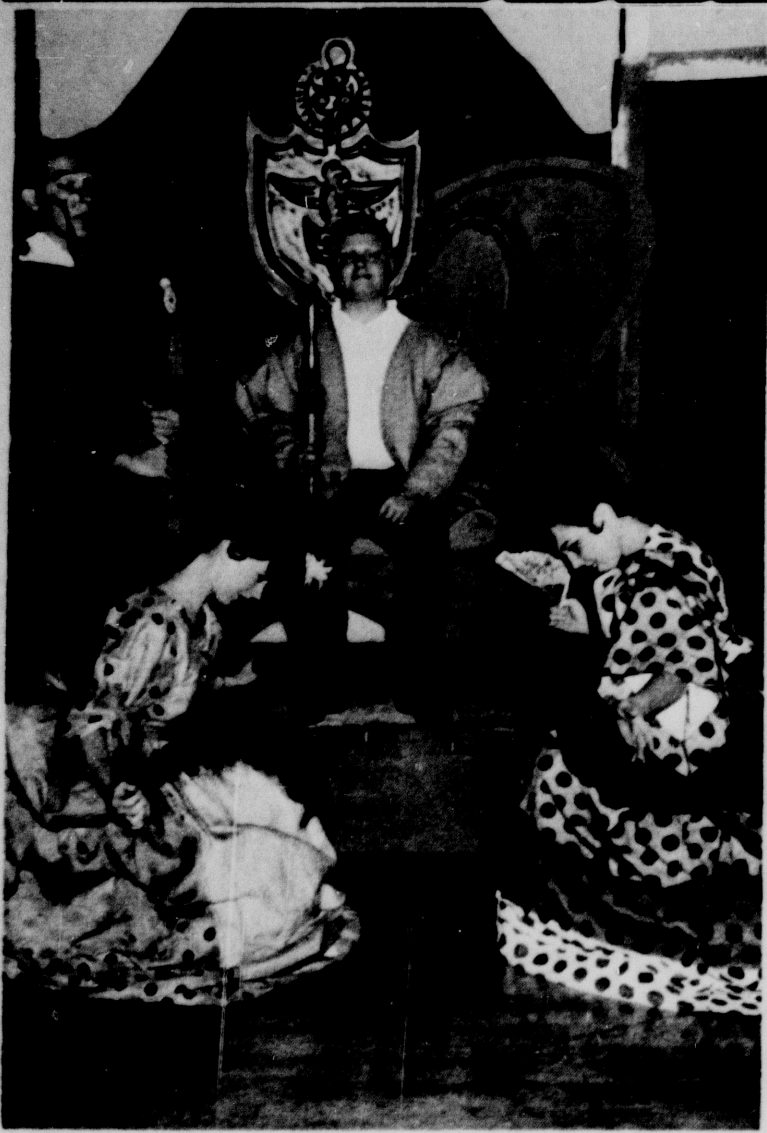

Randall County grand jury will meet Dec. 19 to consider several cases, according to Criminal District Attorney A. W. Lair.

It will be Lair's last meeting with the grand jury in his official capacity. He is retiring as criminal district attorney at the end of this month. Criminal district attorney-elect is T. G. Hull.

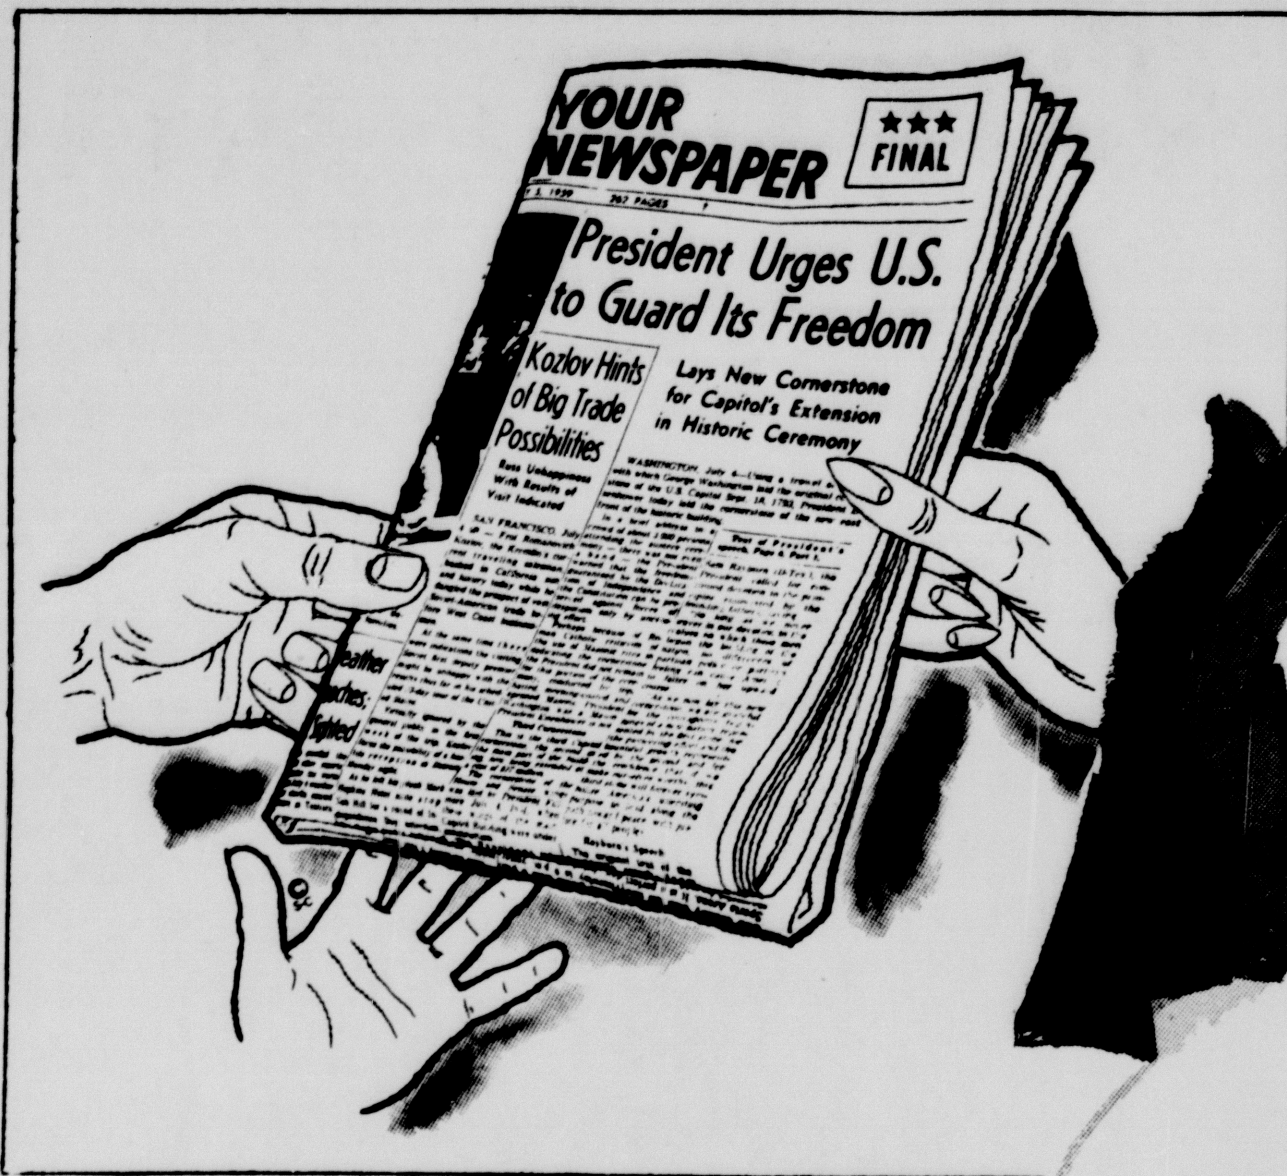

Coach Metz LaFollette has a worried look as he eyes the court in the Midwestern game. It was a big lift for the coach and his team to win their first home game. The score was 89 to 75 in favor of West Texas.

LaGrone Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

The king holds court in "Cinderella," a fairy tale set to music in a new version for Alpha Psi Omega's Christmas production at West Texas State College. One evening performance at 8:15, will be presented Friday in the Branding Iron Theatre, with a matinee scheduled Saturday at 2 p.m. The king is Dwayne Smith of Pampa, and the prime minister at left is Ronny Parks of Paducah. Ladies are Jeanne Huston of Perryton and Lana Hard of Quanah.

CITY OF CANYON

Zoning has been a focal point of the news for the past several days in Canyon. The city zoning board last week recommended the rezoning of Block 31, Normal Addition to the city, from residential to commercial. This would have allowed the owner, Charles Gerald, to move a trailer court onto the block so as to make way for a proposed $100,000 restaurant. The city commission turned down the board's recommendation. Above is a map of the city of Canyon showing the various building zones.

Cub Scouting

May I make a suggestion to all you new Cub Scouts?

One of the achievements of the Lion badge will be to make a logbook of your Cub Scout activities. You will need to start on this now in order to have enough material to fill your book. Save all newspaper articles about your pack and den as well as party favors, programs, etc.

Pack 31 will have a meeting Dec. 10th at 7:30 in the Presbyterian Church. I understand Truitt Hill, will introduce the new cubmaster at this meeting. Boys and parents are urged to attend.

Den 2 gave a farewell party to Mrs. Ross Russell, who has been the den mother the past 4 years. The boys gave Mrs. Russell a chair with each boy's name written on it. Mrs. Dick Ziegler is the new den mother. The boys also began work on Christmas gifts.

Den 3 Mrs. Robert Burton and Mrs. Ray Tinsley, took this den up to be on the Freddy The Fireman show. Quite a number of their friends saw them on TV.

Den 7 worked on the early day theme which they will show at the pack meeting. The boys held races also. Mrs. H. R. Fulton, took the boys to a drive-in for refreshments before going to the meeting.

Pack 97 met Nov. 29 in Fellowship Hall of First Baptist Church. Harold J. Prichard, Asst. Cubmaster was in charge of the meeting. Awards went to the following-Bobcat-Ronnie Cates, Perry Masterson and Gilbert Ray Jr. Wolf-Dwight Davis and Randy Carruth. Bear badge-Jay Bryan, Harvey Risner, Mike Swartzell, Randall Hicks, Ronnie Hager, and Bob Bullock. Lion badge to Ronnie Hager and Bruce Currie. Denner stripes to Gene V. Morrison and Asst. Randy Lyles of Den 5. Duane Harp, Denner and Ronnie Kestler, Asst. of Den 6. Perfect attendance of 1 year to Kenny Angel, Neal Knighton, Kenny Stevenson, Randy Lyles, Ricky Edmonson and Jim Rusk. Perfect attendance of 2 years went to Kent Flynn and Jimmy Malone. Wolf Arrow points went to Mark Lawless, Dwight Davis, and Johnny Christner. Bear points to Jay Bryan, Chris Olson, Gene V. Morrison, Kenny Stevenson, Steve Cataldi, Jamie Martin, and Randy Lyles.

Den 1 made a very realistic dugout from mud and wheat-paste, it had furniture in it which they also made. The boys elected Steve Cataldi, as denner and Bob Bullock Asst.

Den 2 rehearsed for the skit they put on at the pack meeting.

Den 3 worked on the Christmas gifts. Boys in this den are Randy Carruth, Jim Rusk, Ricky Edmonson, Danny Davis, Johnny Christner, Kenny Grimes and Michael Rinehart. A trip to visit Freddy The Fireman is planned Dec. 27. Den 6 will also make the visit with them.

Den 4 worked on Christmas gifts and played games.

Higdon Urges Christmas Mailing Be Done Early

Canyon Postmaster Marion Higdon expressed his appreciation today for the excellent cooperation the Canyon Post Office is receiving so far in its 1962 "Mail Early For Christmas" campaign.

Higdon added, however, that Christmas card and gift mailings must be speeded up immediately if they are to be delivered by Christmas day.

Postmaster Higdon said, "It looks like the Christmas mail this year will set an all time record, far exceeding the 300,000 pieces of mail that were dispatched and delivered by the Canyon Post Office in the pre-holiday season of 1961."

Den 5 visited the museum as a climax to the Buckskin Pioneer theme. Mrs. Gene Morrison served cokes.

Den 6 made logs which they will use in a log rolling contest.

The pack meeting of Pack 97 is the 4th Thursday of every month unless otherwise notified and due to the school being out, this month's meeting will be Dec. 13th at 7:30. The Christmas gifts the boys are making will be given to the parents at this time. A social hour will follow and we hope all parents will attend.

Pack 131 will meet Dec. 11th at the Methodist Church. 7:30 is the time. New Bobcats will receive their pins.

Den 2 visited the museum. Den mothers, Mrs. Bob Ratliff and Mrs. Delmer Thomas, accompanied the boys. Refreshments were furnished by Mrs. Townsend.

Den 4 have been making paper bag masks. They made plans for the pack meeting.

Den 5 finished the gifts they were making. The boys have elected Steve Williams, as denner and Norris Stevens as Asst.

Den 3 have a new Den Chief, John Warren. The boys are putting the finishing tips on the Christmas gifts.

Higdon said that he hoped later mailers wouldn't disappoint friends and loved ones at Christmas time by putting off Christmas mailings to the last minute.

He offered the following easy to follow suggestions: "Be sure your return address and the recipients name and address are plainly typed or written on all labels and Christmas cards. Always use zone numbers. Avoid abbreviations of state and city names.

Higdon urged that Christmas mail be brought to the postal windows before 10 am or between 1:30 and 3:30 pm in order to avoid the noon hour rush.

He advised that Christmas packages should be packed in strong corrugated cartons using plenty of stuffing material to insure safe delivery. Packages should be sealed with heavy paper adhesive tape and tied with strong cord. Higdon added that mailers should be sure to investigate size and weight limitations on packages before bringing them to the Post Office for stamps and mailing.

"Speaking about stamps," the Postmaster said, "use the colorful new 4¢ Christmas stamps on all your Christmas cards. By sending your cards first class mail with the new stamps, they will be delivered promptly and forwarded or returned, if necessary, providing you include your name and address on the Christmas card envelopes.

As further hints on how to expedite Christmas mail, Postmaster Higdon advised Christmas mailers to secure free labels from the Post Office which read, "ALL FOR LOCAL DELIVERY" and "ALL FOR OUT OF TOWN DELIVERY." He said to then separate all Christmas mail into the two groups, wrap or secure them and label with the Post Office labels. He said this will speed up their delivery.

Service windows at the Canyon Post Office will be open weekdays from 8:30 am to 5 pm and from 8:30 am to 12 noon on Saturdays.

Postmaster Higdon advises that all Christmas mail be sent to the Post Office before December 10th with Christmas cards mailed at least before December 15th. For prompt delivery, local Christmas cards should be mailed at least a week before Christmas.

Postmaster Higdon reminds us that we can make it a merrier Christmas for everybody if we "Mail Early--and Often!"

Music Program Slated Monday

A program of contemporary music will be presented in the second of a series of music department faculty members Monday at 4 p.m. in the Fine Arts Building auditorium at West Texas State College. The public is invited.

Rowie Durden, assistant professor, and Gerald Hemphill, associate professor, will play selections from such composers as Bozza, Finzi, Creston, and Vaughan-Williams. They will be assisted by pianists George Eason and Gayneil Wheeler.

Performing on the trumpet, Hemphill is in his first year at WT. He joined the faculty here after serving many years as head of the music department at Phillips University in Enid, Okla.

One of the selections, "Serenade," is an original composition by Miss Wheeler. It is a trio for piano, clarinet, and bassoon.

This picture was submitted by Mrs. Barbara (Neal) Ledbetter of Graham. She says it was taken some time before 1908 and was given to her by a cowboy named Ed Johnston. "This is one of the most typical ranch scenes I have ever seen," writes Mrs. Ledbetter. "Campfires, chuck wagon, bed rolls, cattle in the background and cowboys and horses with dust still in the air. What a picture of cowboy life!"

The auxiliary named Mrs. Nola Ralston, Hereford, district chaplain.

Mrs. Betty Hunter, local president, acted as hostess to the auxiliary meeting.

Other WT players scoring in the double figures were Blankenship and Steve Slagle with 12 points apiece. Midwestern's Royce Heller hit for 15 points and Bobby Cash and Rollin McQueary rounded out the balanced attack with 11 markers each. Pierce was the high rebounder of the game with 13 grabs.

Hilltop Views

In these days of big dimensions--big farms and farm machinery, big chain stores, big banks and big rich people, big labor organizations, big commercial and industrial enterprises, big colleges and universities with big physical plants and big football teams, big churches whose budgets in some cases run into seven figures, tremendously big transportation facilities, big this and big that--we are in danger of losing some of the ideals that have made this country a citadel of freedom.

After all, liberty does not depend upon the abundance of things, but upon the intellectual, moral and spiritual fibre of those who claim it. Some one spoke wisely when he said: "It is good to have money and the things that money can buy, but it is good, too, to check up once in a while and make sure you haven't lost the things money can't buy."

Freedom is one of those things that money can't buy because there is no measuring device by which we can determine its value. If it exists at all it exists in the minds and hearts of men. Free governments merely reflect (in varying degree) the intellectual and spiritual qualities of its people. This is what President Lamar of the Republic of Texas meant when he declared that "Cultivated mind is the guardian genius of democracy, and when guided and controlled by virtue, the noblest attribute of man. It is the only dictator free men acknowledge; the only security free men desire."

Upon this premise our system of public education is built, including colleges and universities. It is not their function so to train youth as to make millionaires, but rather to make men. John Rushin put it strongly when he wrote: "Education does not mean teaching people what they do not know. It means teaching them to behave as they do not behave. It is not teaching the youth the shape of letters and the tricks of numbers, and then leaving them to turn their arithmetic to reguery and their literature to lust. It means, on the contrary, training them into the perfect exercises and kingly continence of their bodies and souls."

These considerations raise the question: How, in the interest of preserving our freedom, can we make sure that we have good schools? The answer involves many factors, but there is one that outweighs all others combined. It has been repeated over and over and over. And yet we do not accept it. We go on and on putting our trust in things. Shall we say again: "There are no good schools without good teachers. And the school that has good teachers is a good school regardless of what else it may or may not have."

This is true because a really good teacher, at whatever level, is a great inspirer of those he (or she) teaches. Day by day he strengthens in his student the mainsprings of human development--a desire to know, a respect for truth, an ambition to achieve, a faith in himself and in others, a courage that fears no obstacle, a determination to make the most of his God-given endowment. This is what we mean by character building and it takes place in every school room where there is a good teacher.

I speak from both experience and observation. Between the time I first entered school (at 5 yrs. of age) and the time I attended school last (at 38 years of age) I had approximately 30 teachers, each of whom left some permanent mark on my life. At least 2 of them were distinctly bad in their influence upon me. Four were clearly superior, some six or eight might be called excellent, several were medium to good and the remainder were tolerable.

To illustrate the wide difference between a bad and a good-to-superior teacher I relate two experiences. A few months before I was 17 years old I was sent away from home to a classical private high school located in a small but well-to-do cultured village. Country bumpkin that I was I felt ill at ease wherever there was a public gathering. My teacher of English was widely known for her scholarship and mastery of sarcasm. When she sent me to the board to diagram a sentence before the entire class I was scared almost breathless. Of course I made a few mistakes, and after further embarrassing me with questions I could not answer she turned to the class and with a devastating sneer said: "Children, you have heard about the little green hill far away". Well, it is here before us this morning." It crushed me. I already knew I was green. I knew I was not as smart as some others there, and now, what little respect I had had for my intelligence vanished. The inferiority complex which had heretofore discouraged me now overwhelmed me and cursed me for 50 years.

Fortunately, the person who took that teacher's place at the end of that year was a happy contrast. She loved people. She took a personal interest in each of her pupils. She had a warmth of spirit that every one felt. We looked upon her as a true friend, and that she was. A graduate (M. A. degree) of the University of Texas, her voluntary friendly letters to her own faculty friends there preceded me when I entered (1897). At least three faculty members gave me a cordial welcome and continued their interest in me throughout my career in that institution. One of them continued to advise me even after I became President of West Texas State.

In this contrast between these two teachers we see what a good teacher is like and its importance in the education of youth; and let us remember that because true education is an intellectual, moral and spiritual process it is basic in the preservation of our freedom.

Land Bank Lowers Rate On Loans

The Federal Land Bank of Houston has announced that effective on January 1, 1963, it will reduce temporarily to 5% the interest rate on all outstanding loans which presently bear a rate in excess of 5%.

The contract rate on new loans will continue to be 5 1/2 % but interest on loans closed on and after December 1, 1962, will be billed temporarily at 5% until further notice by the bank.

In making the announcement, Hal Weatherford, President of the bank, said that of its $260 million of loans outstanding more than $100 million bear contract rates in excess of 5% and that the savings to Texas farmers and ranchers by this action will be more than a half million dollars in the year 1963 alone. Weatherford said this is the fourth time the bank has voluntarily reduced the interest on its outstanding loans.

The Houston bank makes long-term farm and ranch loans through 73 Federal Land Bank Associations located throughout Texas. The one serving this area is the Federal Land Bank Association of Amarillo. Fred Cotton is the Manager and the other officers and directors are Robert W. Foster, President, Happy A. E. Roark, Vice-President, Vega; Albert Byars, Canyon; W. T. Oliver, Amarillo; and W. J. Hill, Jr., Bushland.

Canyon's Growth

(An Editorial)

It is high time for the people of Canyon to take a long hard look at the city's growth trends and start figuring on remedial action.

Through Dec. 3, building permits issued at city hall this year came to $3,983,794. Of this amount, $2,865,085 is non-taxable building constructed by governmental subdivisions, the school district and West Texas State College.

There were $1,083,209 worth of residential building. This leaves a comparatively puny $35,500 devoted to commercial building. Placed beside the total figure, the commercial construction is near negligible.

A part of the reason for the lopsided figures is the fact that Canyon is a suburban city but this does not tell the whole story.

If there is anything we can do to make a better climate for business development in Canyon we should do it without delay.

We think it might not be a bad idea for the city to begin thinking again about consulting a city planner. We hope, in the not too distant future, to see the commercial growth of Canyon keeping pace with the residential growth.

by Troy Martin

FROM THE CANYON RIM

Last week the city commission refused a request by Charles Gerald to rezone Block 31, Norma! Addition, in south Canyon permitting him to move a trailer court onto it. Gerald said permission to move the trailer court would have paved the way for construction of a $100,000 restaurant on Block 30, presently occupied by the trailer court.

The city zoning board already had voted unanimously to comply with Gerald's request. Public hearing was held before the city commission instead of before the zoning board as is usual in such cases. City officials say there are about 25 property owners in the vicinity who would be directly affected by the proposed rezoning.

Only four showed up for the public hearing. This means that of 25 persons directly concerned 21 either were for the proposal or did not register sufficient alarm to attend the public meeting on the matter before the city commission.

To us, the most important facet of the whole thing is the fact that the five-man zoning board, originally approved by the city commission, was over ridden by the commission. On the board are Roland Black, Aubrey Crossland, Owen Williams, Dale Killingsworth and Oliver Grabbe.

One member of the zoning board, Aubrey Crossland, owns property in the vicinity of Block 31. He joined in the unanimous vote for rezoning.

This is the first time we ever have had direct knowledge of ing board--a most important body in a growing town like Canyon--has been seriously impaired.

We do not question the sincerity of the members of the city commission. We have always felt that they have--on the whole--done a fine job for the people of Canyon. On this matter we have a divergence of opinion. ...

There's not much doubt now that the administration again has gotten the short end of the stick in dealing with Moscow.

President Kennedy bristled with brave words--which we were glad to hear--just before the election. He demanded the removal of Soviet offensive weapons from Cuba. On the surface, it looked like a US victory for a while.

Now there is little doubt that the President agreed in return for the missile removal to make Cuba immune from US invasion. How far the agreement went we have not yet learned.

It appears that the Soviet now has a permanent base in the Western Hemisphere.

"Cuba is not negotiable," Mr. Kennedy assured us not so long ago.

Now it appears that Cuba not only is negotiable but already has been negotiated.

We heard Paul Read, Randall County ASCS office manager, explain the 1963 government wheat program last week. After the meeting we had coffee with several farmers.

The consensus of the group was that the Department of Agriculture is not really concerned with solving the farm surplus problem--if indeed such a surplus exists.

Farmers are somewhat bitter and with just cause, about the total cost of the Department of Agriculture being laid at their door.

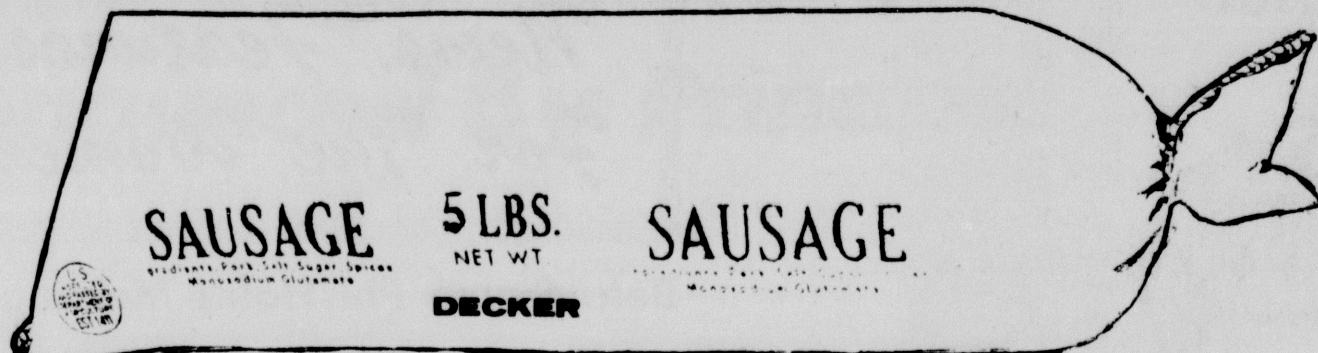

Agriculture products sent as foreign aid, the cost of the federal school lunch program, home demonstration agents in large cities and a score of other federal undertakings not directly related to agriculture are blamed on the farmer.

Also, the farmer is not the only one who is subsidized. We seriously doubt that the American farmer would rank very high on the subsidy totem pole if the actual figures were available.

Federal subsidy touches almost everyone in some form. We all can expect to pay for the "something for nothing." My dad always said, "Son, when you see someone coming with a sack, don't get the idea he's bringing you anything."

The greatest motivating force in the world today is fear. Fear is being used by unscrupulous politicians all over the world. Even in this country fear has become accepted as a political tool.

From the New York Associated Press comes the following report: The image of the American as a cultural clod, says the Stanford Research Institute of California, has been put to rest by a statistical bludgeon.

Studies now show there are more piano players than licensed fishermen, as many painters as hunters and more theatergoers than golfers.

Fifty million Americans, the institute says, are "strumming, dabbling, carving, acting, singing on their own."

The trend, it indicates, is home-grown. Behind it are instant-success gadgets, the do-it-yourself urge, enterprising business, civic pride and social status.

In effect, says Stanford, there is evidence that Americans are becoming interested more in aesthetics than athletics.

Arnold Mitchell, an Institute economist, counted these statistics: 32 million players of musical instruments, 15 million Sunday painters, sketchers or sculptors, a million art photographers and a half-million actors. Amateur writers were not included.

The result of such undertakings is a market for the arts now running about $2.5 billion a year, says Mitchell. He predicts a total arts market of $7 billion by 1970.

And here will be something absolutely earth-shattering to a color-blind carpenter: Colored nails (and I don't mean fingernails) are the latest thing in building products. Now you can get nails and fasteners in bright tones of blue, red, yellow, green, gray and white, as well as in custom colors. Available through Alcoa distributors. The housewife will really enjoy these. Designers, too!

You will also be able to buy vertical blinds, made of vinyl-covered Fiberglas, that look as though they had been coated with a crystallized sugar, and in the sunlight their jewel colors take on the appearance of stained glass. You will be able to snap out each louver and wash it off. This does sound like a pretty rosy future for windows.

ANNETTE SWEATT

Annette Sweatt Is Named Sun Bowl Representative

In an unprecedented move, Ralph Dunn, student body president, has named Annette Sweatt, Denver City senior, as West Texas State College's official Sun Princess representative to El Paso's Sun Carnival.

For about 15 years, the WT Sun Princess has been elected by the student body and a portion of her expenses has been paid by the Student Senate.

Before the start of the fall semester, however, the Senate had voted not to send a representative this year as one means of cutting student government expenses, Dunn said.

"Since the Buffaloes were named the home team in the Sun Bowl, many people felt we should send a representative, and we have had a number of organizations volunteer to pay her expenses," Dunn said. "The Sun Bowl committee has already sent us the money for the Princess."

To meet a deadline for submitting the name of a Sun Princess to the Sun Carnival, Dunn, in consultation with other members of the student government, appointed Miss Sweatt as WT's Sun Princess.

"We did not have time for an election, so the only thing I could do was to appoint a representative," Dunn said. "As president of the student body, I wish to express appreciation to all the groups who have offered to pay the expenses of a representative."

A business education major, Miss Sweatt is a member of Chi Omega, national social sorority. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Sweatt of Denver City.

Junior High Honor Roll Announced By Principal

Six-weeks Honor Rolls for the Canyon Junior High School have been posted on the school bulletin boards, according to L. H. Brotherton, principal of the Canyon Junior High.

Brotherton said the honor roll is a student project of the Junior High student council. They gather the grades from the teachers and prepare the honor rolls for mounting on the school bulletin board, he said.

Brotherton said the students that make the honor roll have to have all A's for the six-weeks period with the possible exception of two B's including their citizenship grades. He said that any grade lower than a B would keep the students off the honor roll for that six-weeks period.

Brotherton said the school doesn't try for any particular grade percentage in determining the honor roll students. The student council just goes by the all A's formula, he said. Brotherton said there is no composite honor roll for the year.

Attendance At Museum Near Record

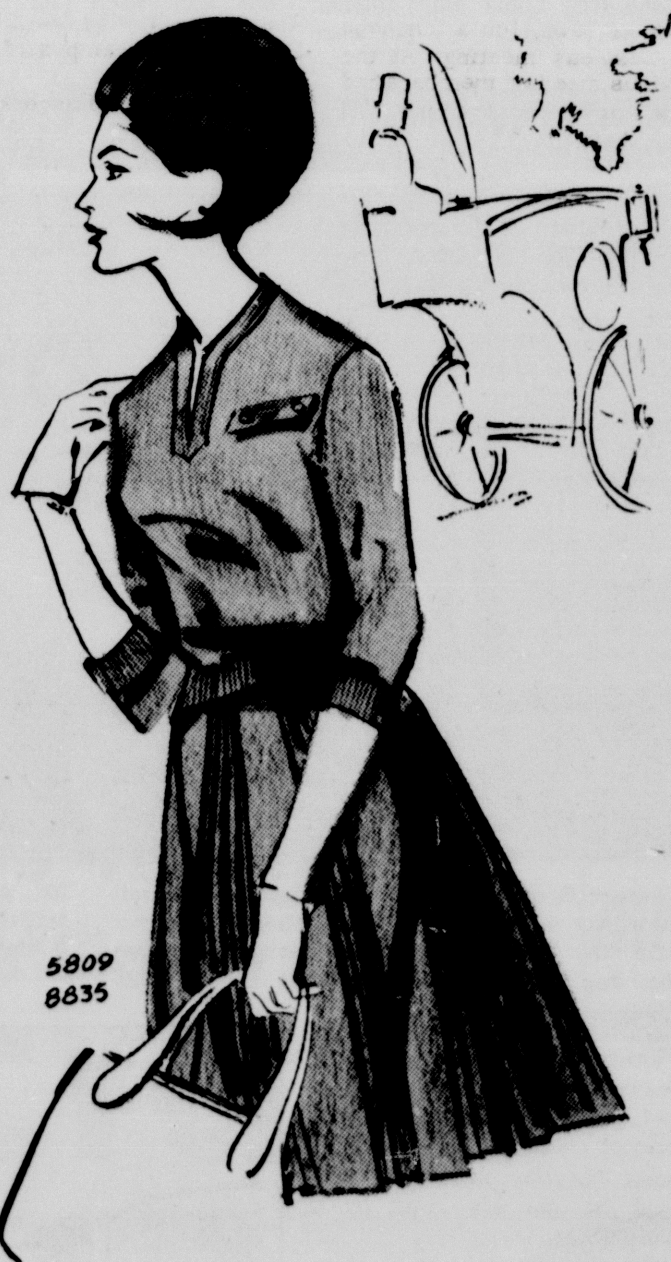

More than 74,650 people have registered this year at the Panhandle Plains Museum through October 31, according to Boone McClure, curator.

If the visitation keeps up at its present pace, there is a possibility that the all-time attendance record of 82,000 set in 1952 will be equaled or surpassed by the first of 1963, McClure said.

Total visitation as of October 31 is 74,655 with the totals for November and December of 1962 not included in this figure. This would require only about 3700 visitors for each of these two months to top the 1952 record. Normal attendance for November and December has been 4400 and 3600.

Canyon FFA Teams Win In Chapter Conducting

Two Canyon teams have placed in district Future Farmers of America leadership contests and one of them will go on to compete in the state meet.

Winning first place was the senior chapter conducting team. It is made up of Charles Evers, Robert Ham, Bill Richey, Kenneth Brown, Red Parker, Elo Myers, Don Freeman, Claiborn Crain, Bobby Evans, David Yarbrough and Kyle Powers.

The junior chapter conducting team placed second in its division. The team is made up of Troy Roach, Larry Robinson, James Evans, Alec Gordon, Kenneth Carroll, Greg Stork, Bill Ham, David McMillan and Bobby Rice.

The senior chapter conducting team automatically placed in the top ten teams in the state. It will compete in the state finals Saturday at Huntsville at Sam Houston State Teachers College.

The Canyon team will represent all of Area I, which is that portion of the Panhandle which is north of a line 20 miles south of Lubbock.

Leadership contests are designed to teach and show leadership qualities. The chapter conducting contest reflects the boys' ability to conduct business in a meeting along parliamentary lines of procedure.

The senior chapter conducting team has reached a pinnacle with their right to represent the area. Members of the team will not be eligible to compete again.

He talked to the game warden down there who said that out of the 44 hunters who hunted Saturday on the management area the bird average was three birds per man. The limit was the same as elsewhere in the Panhandle, 12 per hunter.

Farmer Brown said the game commission bought the land for the refuge in 1959, some 25,000 acres and set it up as a game management area. Since its organization the commission has increased the hunting permits that are allowed on the area. Farmer said this year the commission let out 400 quail permits to Panhandle hunters. Out of this number, he said, many hunters from the Canyon area were lucky enough to draw chances.

In the words of the Game Commission on their game management hunting applications, "Our grazing programs are just getting underway on these areas and range vegetation is heavy and matted. The quail populations are spotty and hunting will be hard and disappointing to those hunters expecting an easy hunt and easy limits." The Commission goes on to urge hunters to use dogs and four-wheeled vehicles for their hunting.

Farmer tells us that Doyle Thomas and his father drew a permit to hunt on the Matador area last weekend. He said they saw three nice coveys but didn't get many birds. They (See PRAIRIE, Page 5)

Deer season is closed now and first indications in this area are that hunters had a pretty good success ratio.

Stan McDonough who just got back from the Canadian River-White Deer Creek country, tells us that the ranchers and hunters in that area did pretty good for themselves this season.

Stan said it will be several weeks before he can supply any accurate account of the numbers of hunters and deer that were in the area but he deer were fatter than he had ever seen. Stan said the deer looked like "fat hogs", and he said there even were deer that had fat around the heart. "They must have been feeding in feed lots," he said. That may have been more truth than fantasy.

Concerning the quail populations in the Canadian area, Stan said he thinks the quail will be very spotty there. "There may be plenty in one or two areas and next to none elsewhere," he said.

We mentioned that maybe the brush had kept the hunters from seeing the quail and they might just be under cover. Stan allowed that this might be the case, but that he felt if the birds were there, they would show, despite the heavy cover.

Bob Brown out at the federal reserve on Buffalo Lake, filled us with good cheer about the migratory stuff that has continued to come in.

Brown said the geese population is way up around 7000 now and the ducks are better than 100,000 strong. Brown said the cool weather has really kept the birds moving.

Brown said the geese keep moving in and out of the refuge to the fields where they are feeding on fallen grain. He said that lots of hunters have been out to the refuge asking about hunting, but that about all he can tell them is to ask permission of the local landowners around the refuge.

Brown added that he thinks the hunters around the refuge are getting a few geese that are setting in the maize fields feeding.

Brown's only advice to hunters in the area is this: "If a hunter feels a bird and it falls into the refuge ask him to leave his gun on the other side of the fence. We can't have any guns on the refuge." Sounds reasonable.

Farmer Brown came by and told us about his trip two weeks ago to Oklahoma to try out his short-haired pointer: on the quail near Olustee, Oklahoma. The quail season in Oklahoma opens ten days before it does in Texas.

When he got there he found his luck was in sad shape. Bozo (the short hair) flushed a covey right away but when he started to let fly, his gun snapped three times before it went off. Broken firing pin. Farmer said he walked half mile went to Childress on opening day of the Texas quail season with Frank Bounds and his wife, Doyle Thomas and his wife and stayed with Doyle Thomas' father, J. E. Thomas.

Farmer said the hunting conditions were very good with the weather ideal. There was plenty of moisture, even too much, Farmer said. Farmer said they found the cover much heavier than previous years and after talking with the local game warden found that he thought the quail populations were about 40% less than last season.

Farmer said they got about 20 birds Saturday but they had just gotten started early Sunday morning when the rains started to come down. Only got one bird each that morning. "Rained so hard we had to quit and go in," he said.

Farmer saved the day and gave us a report on the Matador Game Preserve. We Farmer Brown took off BOZO, a new pointer he tried out this week in Oklahoma. Farmer said the ground was way too wet to give the dog a fair trial, but that he did well.

He said the dog is especially good on retrieving and placing the returned bird in the hunter's hand. That's a nice sensation.

a mile back to the car to get another gun. By that time the heavy dew and water and frost had begun to melt off and the pointer could begin to smell and point out the birds. Farmer said he got his limit by 11 o'clock.

He said he went by Charley Baker's place where he was visiting and they cooked the quail for lunch. Said they sure were good.

Farming and ranching are big business in Texas. Total state cash farm income for 1961 was approximately $2.4 billion. If the value added to agricultural commodities by processors and distributors is included, the total from agribusiness amounts to $6.5 billion. Agriculture provides approximately a fourth of the State's income from all sources and a livelihood for 40% of Texas' total population.

On December 11, 1962, qualified producers of cotton will be asked to vote their approval of marketing quotas. In order for the quotas to be in effect for the 1963 crop it will be necessary for 2/3 of the producers qualified and voting in the referendums to vote in favor of the quotas.

Three voting places are set in Randall County. They are Ralph Switch, Canyon, and Umbarger.

A report from the Randall County Farm Bureau this week shows that signatures of about 15% of cattle owners are still needed to bring the brucellosis clean-up program into Randall County.

Testing Randall County commercial dairy herds for T. B. should be completed this week. A report from the area veterinarian indicates good cooperation with herd owners and the

Short Foundation Foots Bill For Nine Students

It was a good try but the result was not too great. That about sums up the try for rain during the past two weeks. The wheat will receive some benefit. This would have been an excellent time to collect some soil moisture to keep the wheat coming during the cold months ahead when rain is often and mostly absent.

Wheat growers are reminded that December 14 is the deadline for entering the wheat reduction program. All growers who reduce their acres below their allotment or farm base and expect to receive diversion payments will need to sign an intention to participate. A grower may grow only his farm allotment, receive price supports under this new law. In this case no signing up is necessary.

The annual awards program for Randall County 4-H Club members will be held in the Randall County Junior Livestock Building on Saturday night, Mrs. Alice Short Smith of McLean, Texas, was present at the annual meeting of students on the Opportunity Plan held at West Texas State College Saturday.

Mrs. Smith, a 1928 graduate of WT, is one of the board members of the Opportunity Plan, and at the meeting met the nine students who have been enabled to continue their education through the Short Foundation which she established with Dec. 15. Boys and girls who have done the best project work in 1962 will receive medals for this achievement.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Allen and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Robinson are the adult organization leaders for the newest Community 4-H Club. The name is the "Four-H Workers" Club. Members mostly live in the northwest portion of the County. The third Tuesday night of each month was selected as the regular meeting date.

the Opportunity Plan in memory of her mother and father.

In order to become better acquainted with her group of students, she gave a dinner for them in the Blue Room of the college cafeteria at 6 p.m. Saturday.

Students on the Short Foundation plan are Carol Ellis, Avin Brownlee, Jo Hendricks, Lynda McCurley, LeAnn Pafford, Esther Salazar, Glenna Gaines, Judy Smith, and Patricia Thomson.

Others attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Milton Morris, Miss Edna Graham, all of Canyon; Mrs. Leo Gardner of Vigo Park, a sister of Mrs. Smith; Mr. and Mrs. Bud Smith and daughter of Lubbock; and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Bowden of Ralls. Mr. Smith and Mr. Bowden are managers of Mrs. Smith's business interests in Lubbock and Ralls.

They attended the business meeting and dinner so they could gain more information about the Short Foundation.

Area Code Number On Letterheads

Mrs. Johnnie James, PBX instructor for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Amarillo was in Canyon Tuesday contacting printing companies here as a part of the Bell Telephone program for inclusion of area code numbers on business letterheads with the regular telephone numbers.

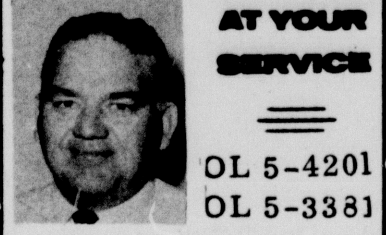

Mrs. James said she wanted to emphasize the importance of including the area code on the letterheads. She said the inclusion of the area code number with the regular telephone number would give the nation long distance telephone number of the business from any place in the United States or Canada.

Miss Lou Ella Patterson, former Randall County Home Demonstration Agent now serving as Agent in Pampa, visited in the home of Mrs. Ray Fullerton Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. James said use of the area code number with the regular telephone number makes the call go through much faster whether dialed direct or placed through the operator, saving the caller time and money.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Tilcheck of Hereford were Thursday evening visitors in the Arvin Triplett home.

Several Reports Heard By District Committee

The District Committee for the Randall District of the Llano Estacado Council met last Friday in the West Texas State College cafeteria for its monthly meeting.

Reports from the various operating committee chairmen showed that the Randall District is the leading district in the Council in new members, number of subscriptions to the official Scout magazine, number of boys taking part in camping, number of leaders taking basic training, and number of boys who have advanced one or more ranks during the past year.

T. G. Hull, Jr., reported that the District shows a 25% growth in new Scout units for the year,

Explorers Contribute To Cub Pack

Explorer Post 31, sponsored by the First Methodist Church, has presented the newly organized Cub Pack 131 with a check for $35 to help purchase supplies they will need to get started.

M. S. Downing is the Post Advisor, Jim Blake is the Associate Post Advisor, and Jimmy Newton is the Post president.

Cubmaster for the new Pack, which is also sponsored by the First Methodist Church, is J. Mack White, and there are approximately 56 boys in the Pack. The Pack completed its organization and held its first meeting the first week of November.

The Cub theme for November was the Buckskin Pioneer, and the boys in the Pack worked on appropriate crafts and visited the museum.

The first activity for the group will be a Bobcat ceremony December 11. The Bobcat award is the first award Cubs can qualify for in the series of ranks which lead to becoming a Boy Scout.

and a 12.8 % growth in boy membership. A new Cub Scout Pack, sponsored by the First Methodist Church, has recently been organized, and a Troop, sponsored by the Rotary Club, was organized in April.

Also, 77.7% of the boys belonging to one of the three phases of the Scout program are subscribing to Boys Life, the national Scout magazine.

Wesley Cox, chairman of the Camping and Activities Committee, reported that 100% of the Troops and Posts in the District took part in a long-term camp of seven or more days during the summer, and 85% of the boys in the District have had 10 or more days and nights of camping since January of this year.

Lee Roy Moreland, chairman of the Leadership Training Committee, reported that more than 70% of the top leaders have completed basic training. Seventy percent or more of the 343 boys in the District have advanced one rank or more in the past year, according to Bill Davis, chairman of the Advancement Committee.

Also discussed at the meeting were plans for the District Annual Potluck Dinner to be held December 17 at the Canyon Elementary School. The purpose of the dinner is to recognize unit leaders for the outstanding job they have done in working with the boys of the District. A large number of awards to unit leaders and units are to be presented that night. Each family is to bring a pot luck dinner sufficient to feed themselves.

Chief Says Emergency Unit Now Ready To Go

Canyon Volunteer Fire Department's emergency unit now is equipped and ready to go, according to Jack Haley, fire chief.

Haley said all the equipment for the unit has been installed in the newly purchased station wagon, including the portable resuscitator which was purchased for the Emergency Unit by various civic clubs in Canyon.

Haley emphasized that the Emergency Unit was available 24 hours a day anywhere in Randall County for any emergency use. "Just call the Canyon Fire Department," he said.

The Emergency Unit was originated by the suggestions of the volunteer firemen when they pointed out to civic groups in Canyon that there was no emergency unit in the county that was capable of bringing emergency rescue techniques and first aid to the scene of an accident or emergency.

A program was started utilizing funds from the city, the volunteer fire department and from donations by the civic clubs in town. Within a period of a few months, enough money was collected to purchase a station wagon to carry the equipment and make the unit mobile, to buy a portable resuscitator for emergency respiration and for other equipment necessary for rescue and first aid work.

The volunteer firemen also pointed out that the fire department has access to a boat and trailer for rescue work involving floods and drowning cases in the county.

Board Denies Three Pleas

Zoning Board of Adjustments of the City of Canyon denied three requests Thursday night at a special called meeting in city hall. All the requests concerned property owners who wanted to construct additions to their buildings or homes on or near their property lines.

Standard city zoning regulations require that buildings be set back 20 feet from the front property line, 5 feet from the side property lines and 10 feet from the back or alley property line.

Harold Byars of 2406 12th Avenue requested a permit to construct a shed on the side of his property within the five foot restriction. L. S. Johnston of 2402 11th Avenue requested a permit to construct a patio with a roof on the side of his garage. It also was denied because it was too close to the side property line.

Isabel Robinson of 2500 5th Avenue requested a permit to put an addition on the front of her house. The request was denied because it would place the addition closer to the front property line than the 20 foot restriction allows.

We are seeing a continuing need for outdoor recreational facilities of all kinds and especially those based on water use. The State and National parks and forests have been and are continuing to be improved and expanded, but they will not be able to keep up with demands. Most of these are overcrowded now and are usually far removed from population centers making it difficult for many people to use.

Since we need to make land use conversions to hold surplus crop production and to conserve the soil why not convert to recreational land use. In this way the land will not just lie idle and farm income can be supplemented.

Recreational opportunities on privately owned lands are unlimited. These new farm enterprises range from a few acres for picnicking and camping to large watershed lake areas. The crops harvested include fish, ducks, pheasant, quail, and fur bearing animals but are not limited to these. Recreational areas may be ideal for swimming, camping, boating, hiking, nature study and other uses. Many farmers are using their land for fowl hunting, restocking with commercially or farm hatched wildlife. Ponds are kept stocked for fishing and the returns from fees charged the general public or club members often represents a good portion of the farm income. Some farms have been entirely devoted to recreational use and are yielding profitable returns.

Assistance ranging from technical advice for planning to financial help with loans can be obtained. The Soil Conservation Districts, Rural Area Development Programs, and the Soil Conservation Service are sources of assistance.
